Chapter 1 - Let's Make A Dungeon - Soko Hore Wanwan (Soko = Over There; Hore = Dig; Wanwan = Bowwow;)

After the light disappeared and my I regained my sight, I was standing between a forest and a wide plain.

[Alright, this time you seemed to have actually made it.]

By the way, Before when I dodged, she tried to find me around here for two hours. An extreme idiot.

[So, wanna talk? Or make a dungeon first?]

For now the surroundings seem to be quiet. From the previous explanation, this place is at level of Europe in the middle ages with slaves and monsters welcome. Can't relax at all…

[Hmm, first, lets make a place where we can talk calmly.]

[…]

The silence continued.

[Why don't you say it?]

[Don't give it such an idiotic name!!!]

My anger is definitely appropriate.

But, with this nothing will be started…Ah, she did say she gave me a skill. Then, maybe…

[?!!]

Luna is wearing an astonished expression. That's because even though I didn't say Soko Hore WanWan and yet in front of my eyes a window popped out. By the way the skill's title was [Soko Hore WanWan Dungeon Maker-w]. It's pissing me off. By the way there was a GIF of a dog digging a hole. Pointlessly good.

[Whoa, without chanting, wait, read the mood!!!]

[No, you read the mood!]

As I thought, it worked without an incantation. I'm thankful only at times like these.

By the way, hearing it later it seems that magic and skills activated after chanting their name or chant.

Chant-less incantation is hard to understand but the usual fireball would finally be activated after saying some line like [Fire use my magic…]. The height of Chuunibyou. (when people have crazy delusions). Well if I simply rank the level of chant-less magic:

Chant-less > 5 levels of shortened chant magic > 5 levels of speed chanted magic.

By the way it seems the Soko Hore WanWan chant is usually 4 hours long…freaking annoying.

So, Soko Hore WanWan….uhh, Dungeon Maker is fine. Well looking at that, somehow I'm still able to use it and since there was a tutorial, it wasn't that bad. Is it syncing with me? It seems to be use my image of using a PC and seems to display a 3D image. A touch-panel in the air like PCs from the future… (Like from the Iron man movies).

[Your so boring, well first of all, this is from me, you first salary]

Ping and on the terminal in front of my eyes, a message appeared.

[Received 1500 DP (Dungeon Points).]

Don't say things like initial salary! It somehow feels like this place is my new workplace…no, it's no different from a job…but just a little…

Well, regaining my reason, I started activating the dungeon creating system…also since Luna was here no monsters could come closer.

So, this dungeon maker seems to be one troublesome thing. If I had to say what I was feeling then first we would need secure land by spending DP. What does securing land mean anyway? Basically in Japan, how much does it cost to own 1 sq. ft type of feeling. Somehow I didn't really have any motivation to make anything causing Luna to start complaining.

[What, you, if you can't even do this level of management, how are you going to operate the dungeon?]

It's true but I can't accept it. By the way, this technique was used by a lot of people a long time ago where they would make a large dungeon and leaved it as it is. It's definitely natural. Bring me a spreadsheet program!? By the way there's also maintenance costs. Finally you seem to be able to sell stuff too. Uh… it's already no different from earth. Well, first lets write down our expenses. This dungeon maker seems to also have journal function.

200 DP 2 sq. Km of land (100 DP/Sq. Km) Yearly Maintenance Costs (10 DP/Sq. Km)

100 DP 1 sq. Km of land [Depth] (100 DP/Sq. Km) Yearly Maintenance Costs (10 DP/Sq. Km)

300 DP 3 Floors (100 DP/Floor)

150 DP 3 Floor Customization (50 DP/Floor)

150 DP Trap creation (DP depends on Trap)

30 DP 3 Floors of Trap customization (1 Floor Customization = 10 DP)

300 DP Monster Summoning (Details Later)

150 DP Personal Room Furniture (Mail Order System)

Total of 1380 DP Used 120 DP Remaining 90 DP after Maintenance Costs

The world is pretty difficult…If I just stay indoors then in 4 years I'm out. Aren't my savings lower than when I was back on Earth?

Well with this feeling, I finally made it. Oh, the prerequisite condition was all the rooms had to be connected so I couldn't use my plan to isolate my room. Well, somehow I will figure it out.

Also the most important thing is the dungeon core as part of the contract. Its part of the job to protect it, but also in this world it can be sold for a high price since it is used as a magic stone. A place to put your saved DP. I got 3 of these.

So if I let it get taken away 3 times then I won't be able to manage the dungeon. It won't be GAME OVER but it will definitely make things hard. Also if I don't have at least 10 DP then the dungeon wont stay active. It seems its job is to act like a bank for the dungeon. So first of all deposited 10 DP into the core and stored the rest in the other cores. Moreover the core seems to collect the yearly maintenance fess and if there isn't enough it will reduce its size accordingly. Needlessly efficient in that way. If you think about it, its possible to manage multiple dungeons.

Oh it seems you can also sell the core at the Dungeon Management Corner for 5000 DP.

???? item is probably MS or AC….probably requires 10,000,000 DP…

[Hey, if you're done lets go your room]

Was she bored? Since she was wearing as sulky expression as she said that.

Whose fault do you think it is…

For now lets go back to my room and check out the situation, for that we took the shortest route to the lowest floor.

Luna seemed to be caught in a trap (Lol). Not even a lethal trap worked huh. I thought, I wonder what would even work on a god like her.

Chapter 2 - Status!! Beyond Promised…

Now then, Luna started her story while we drank tea in my room. By the way the things that were in my room back on earth were all switched here while using magic as a substitute for electricity…well that was a difficult concept so I'm gonna leave as is. I can get the internet and cable here well as long as the Earth doesn't get destroyed.

[Then, I will let you look at my abilities so you can understand better. There really is no meaning in having a practice battle with me, so I can't have you learn like that.]

[I understand, then, how do I see you abilities?]

[It would be fine if you just say "Status!!!"]

OK, that's definitely a God alright. I can't tell if the status is low or high but age wise, I think she's definitely in the millions of years old. I guess I can believe it since she's a god.

[Why are you just looking at my age?!!! Be surprised about the other things!!!]

[Uh, no, I don't understand the standard so I can't be surprised. That's why I'm looking at the age since I can understand it.]

It was beyond perfect reasoning.

[Hoooh, as expected from someone from Earth. Magic and Intelligence are really high.]

[Wait, there's now magic on earth, right?]

[No, its different, its just not being used. It wasn't necessary right? You didn't need it to live right?

I see, it's just that we never needed it.

[You're right, for now let me teach you the average. Here on Arourite, an average 18 year old's status would be…]

Then she told me to wait so she could show me.

[Wait a second, Why am I 18 years old? I was 26!!]

I see, my status isn't really that different from the average except for things related to magic. I guess I can't help it if my physical ability is a little behind. After all this world is in the middle age of Europe and the average here high because of the jobs that need a lot of physical ability. But how is physical ability calculated, as I think that and ask Luna…

[Ahh, physical ability is simpler than you think. Do you think Physical ability = Offensive ability then you subtract defensive ability and if it is high enough you won't take any damage no matter how many attacks hit you?]

[I see, Even if 150 Str at most you would be able to punch with full power about 10 times and if it its just right you might die from even that.]

[That's how it is, well if you guard right and avoid a critical then that probably won't happen.]

[Oh, right right, you have the [All Purpose Judgement] skill so why don't you look at the statuses of those goblins]

[Alright.]

After saying that, I called each slime and goblin one by one. I can summon them using the Dungeon Skill Monster Summon Skill so its pretty convenient. So let me explain the monsters' statuses. Monster can be called using my mana from the summoning circle. Basically, Spending 300 DP: Both the summoning circles for goblins and slimes cost me 100 DP. Each one's maintenance costs is 2 DP. So I have about a 100 of both slimes and goblins (50:50) loitering about. This will also probably increase based on their rank and rarity huh…(he's talking about summoning cost).

Let's look at their statuses.

Normal Skill:

Spear Lv 1

[What? The level's higher than mine…and this world's slimes seem pretty strong.]

The slimes from games and stories have varied stats. Soft body is probably because they are living creatures. There also setting where they can be defeated by anything except fire magic. Well the weak image was formed by that game anyways (I think it was dragon quest?). But even in that game if you raised it to Lv 99 it would become legendary.

[What are you talking about? Having slimes be higher level than their summoner but if you look at their statuses buhaaa, what are these slimes and goblins?! They have way too many skills!!! And then compared to their level their intelligence and magic ability is so freaking high!! Earth is scary!!!]

Luna used her own analyzing ability and started laughing looking at the statuses of the goblins and slimes.

Looking at two of their statuses, I thought if their intelligence is this high, are they smarter than humans?

[Hey are these guys smarter than humans?]

[Ah, the status describes potential ability. Are you able to use your current abilities to the fullest?]

[Meaning that even if they are clever, if they haven't learned anything then its no good?]

[Yeah, even if they have the ability to memorize 100 things, if they can't recall anything than they will always fall behind those who can recall even 1 thing. Physical ability and offensive ability are easy to understand but intelligence is more complex. Its easy for humans to learn but hard for monsters.]

I see, if I teach them, then maybe in the future they may even be able to use math. First lets stuff them full of battle tactics since if they don't have them then they won't even have a future. Both me and these guys.

[Then, I guess I will go back too. If you use that mail-order delivery then you can contact me too. I can sell you the map of this place for DP so do your best. This place is in a position where both monsters and humans will come. If you do things well, you won't run of out DP.]

Saying that she got up from her seat and I saw her off without standing up.

[Really, aren't you skipping a lot of steps. Can't you teach me things like this place's location and the surrounding countries's relationships.]

[Oh my, if I gave you all the information, it would be too boring right? It's good to fumble. Since that's how you grow.]

Saying that, Luna disappeared.

[Well my environment was prepared for me but I still have no clue what circumstances I'm currently in. But exploring myself is probably too reckless. For now let's just shut myself in the dungeon and play some games.'

And that's how the first day in the new world ended…

Chapter 3 - The Things Needed For My Victory - Namely Training

The smart phone's alarm echoed. As always, I woke up and got ready for work.

[Ah, that's right, I came to another world, for real]

Getting up, I don't seem to have any of my normal obligations to fulfill.

Should I say, the me now, is sleeping inside a mental hospital and that I actually haven't gone to another world?

If I think about it, whether I'm in a drama or a delusion. I don't really want to be reckless. I still have my dignity and morals after all.

Well. Let's stop escaping from reality. Let's start managing the dungeon quickly.

But I have no choice but to start teaching (battle tactics) and raising the goblins and the green slimes under me. Its sad that even though a day has passed, I haven't gained any DP. It seems that monsters made inside a dungeon and their mana won't earn me any DP. Which reminds me how do I go about earning DP anyway. The goal of this dungeon is make mana flow back in a cycle which basically means that I need to collect mana from outside and convert it into DP. That's right, from the outside, meaning that I can't earn any from my monsters. Basically, even if the monsters spend use mana inside the dungeon I can at least absorb it to mitigate some of their maintenance costs. I can also inject my own mana directly into the dungeon core to change it into DP but personally that seems a bit iffy. I don't know even know when my life could end, I can't just use my mana, my only lifeline, and convert it into DP. Still it seems to be relief system in a way, since the dungeon core can earn DP from mana at 10% efficiency (10 mana = 1 DP). My maximum mana is currently 690 and so I can change it all into 69 DP. Honestly, I just want to shut myself in for a year and accumulate DP.

But, the way to earn DP would be to invite enemies into the dungeon and kill them, that would be easiest way to earn DP. When you kill an enemy, it seems their MP＋HP gets converted to DP at 100% efficiency. In reality, I haven't killed anything yet thought. In other words, I have no data. Even using the tutorial, I'm the type that can't believe if its true or not. Lets use MP for the next enemy. In other words lets hit them with a magic attack. Since inside the dungeon, the enemies MP is scattered and turned into DP. The last way is the least efficient to earn DP but at the same time the easiest way to earn. Any living things that stay inside the dungeon for more than a hour will automatically start having their MP being absorbed and converted to DP. The efficiency is that after an hour 1 person can earn 1 DP. It goes up if they are a powerful magician or a hero but normally it's 1 DP/hr. Prospectively speaking, in the future creating a city inside the dungeon would be a good way to earn DP semi-permanently. But that's difficult. Until now dungeons have been the entrance to death to people, so people living inside the dungeon is something of the distant future. Wild animals are fine but that too is a little iffy.

Shall I return to the beginning, that's why right now, defeating the enemies that come to the dungeon is the only thing I can do. Right now the goblin and green slime subordinates are strangely strong according to Luna. The earthling that's me might be the cause but for me that's not all that assuring. However strong they are racially speaking, they can't hope to defeat a LV 100 enemy. Personally, I can't relax until I have subordinates that can defeat heroes or demon kings with ease. In manga and light novels, when you get monsters that are stronger than normal to be your comrades (nakama), they would the same as reliable partners. But that's just self-conceit in of it self.

That's why I will give my subordinates the weapon called the the internet to use freely…

[I'm gonna start training you guys now!! In order to defeat the enemy, but actually its a little different. My real goal is to surpass my current self!! You guys don't know in what way. No, you guys are smart so you do know. After all, how long will you fight, in other words, the enemy you can't defeat today you will defeat tomorrow. That's not winning against the enemy, that's winning against the you of yesterday who couldn't defeat the opponent. Don't get conceited. Learn, and become stronger so you won't lose to the you of yesterday.]

I don't know if they understood the speech just now, I began telling them the specifics for their training regardless.

[First of all, Form teams of 5 and decide your Captain and lieutenant. Form a platoon (2+ squads) and start training… I will have you learn CQB (close quarter battle)!!]

I don't have guns but this still has a considerable meaning to it. The middle ages' civilization's coordination and our current modern combat techniques' differences will be shown. Mentally and technically too. By the way, you might say, doesn't teaching human battle strategies to goblins have any meaning? But don't worry.

On the bulletin board (probably some forum on the internet), how do you optimally teach Slimes and Goblins CQB was posted to the boards. Everything from interesting viewpoints to surefire techniques started coming out. Gathering the modern people of earth and the board where they can express their opinions, I can't even compare it to the this world's civilization's insulated exchanges of opinions.

However, special training alone isn't enough, including classroom training will make them even stronger. That's why let me explain the dungeon's composition.

1st floor

The orthodox labyrinth. The dungeon made of stone is here. Here there a strategical net of traps laid out. Also there is the slimes' exclusive strategy of attack in the narrow corridor. This would be place where they can use CQB to the best of their abilities.

2nd Floor

Using grasslands and the forest to create a field type battlefield. Everything in here is to be used at your own discretion to make traps so that the enemy falls into confusion.

3rd Floor

The final defensive line and the floor that has my room. The dungeon core is also here. So using that, we can corner the enemy and teach them that letting your guard down is the greatest enemy.

The goblins and green slimes were trained to the limits of my plans.

That result being…

Chapter 4 - Initiating Operations - We Are The Proud Warriors

The goblins and slimes took about 7 days to grow exponentially. Within that period, everything from small animals to large animals and even some outsider goblins that entered were exterminated.

The results of the 7 days earned me 332 DP.

Using this, I fixed the dungeon's deficiencies and made it so that it would be easier to work. I added more traps to support us. The new goblins and slimes started being brought in to prepare for the next enemy.

And so 2 days later [Humans] were detected by the slime scouts.

Right now the main force is on the 3rd floor in the war room being briefed on the situation.

[Right now we have detected 5 enemies near the dungeon. We will be able to obtain more information when they enter the labyrinth. I will convey the preliminary information. There is two front-line spear men, and 2 more support-type magicians behind the first 2. And finally there is 1 thief-type who is thought to be acting as their scout.]

The goblins and slimes were listening without showing any particular response. Aren't you guys a little too dependable.

[Breaking them down by gender, the front two and the 1 in the rear are men and the remaining two are women. My impressions are that its a stable party…formation. The front-line will engage the enemy while the rear attacks with long-range attacks. The thief will use his speed to find the enemy and will support the entire battle.

In games, this the usual formation, sturdy, meaning…

[The enemies are experts so be prepared. G unit will deploy 3 squads to attack and two squads will standby as my guard. S unit will deploy 2 squads to backup the nearby G unit. The other 3 squads of S unit will be deployed in the 1 in a 1000 chance that the enemy won't be taken out by the main force in which case they will launch a surprise attack to eliminate the enemy.]

G unit are the goblins and the S unit of courser are the slimes.

[The interception location will be the back of the 1st floor. Then let me convey the operation goals. Primary goal is to annihilate the enemies. Secondary goal is to capture the enemy. In regards to the secondary goal, I would like the leader but its alright if you give priority to the primary objective. Then the ETA for the enemy is 1430 hours so standby until 1400.]

The secondary goal of capturing them alive was to get some information from the outside. It will help me manage the dungeon more effectively but this time I think it will be difficult to capture the enemy.

In any case, I can't judge the situation until they step withing the dungeon allowing me to analyze them.

And so everyone was assembled. Switching standby position.

And so at 1430 the intruders arrived starting the operation. They arrived earlier than expected. As I expected they appear to be veterans.

Starting analysis.

First I check the statuses of the men…of course I already reported the information to G unit and S unit. The average is around 40 huh. From our perspective that's plenty strong but the statuses proportions compared to their levels show that my subordinates are stronger, aren't they? Or does it mean that gaining levels will be easier from now on. There maybe more progress since their races are different? I can't come to the conclusion right now though.

Also under rewards and punishments, ruler of the past and hero of the past is worth noting. They seem to have some grand history. Well let's judge them after looking at the women.

…A maid huh. No, but is the rewards and punishments section for the women ignored? Even though I haven't heard the circumstances from the slaves themselves I can still understand that their circumstances are bad. I can make this the secondary goal then.

[I will start giving you individual directives. The information is as you see it is. The main obstruction are the 3 men. The two women according to their statuses are pretty much powerless. As such make the two women priority for the secondary objective. G unit 1st squad will capture them. The remaining men will be shifted to primary objective. There's no need to hold back, crush them with your full might. If they survive by coincidence capture them too according to the secondary objective.]

[No change in the operation. The first interception will take place at point alpha, point beta will be the second interception point. Point theta will be the last defense line of the 1st floor and will be the third attack point.]

After finishing giving out orders, I opened up the map to see G unit and S unit approach the enemy at point alpha. The enemy markers seem to be slowly moving forward. Monitoring them in real time I can see that the two girls' statuses aren't looking good.

The heroine flag and the troublesome flag usually seem to coincide but from my perspective who knows nothing about this world, this royal and the escort are greatly appreciated. Using the word protection if I can get them on my side even though it might be troublesome will have great deal of merit.

And so the enemy arrived at point alpha…

[Start Operation! We are the proud soldiers! Ladies and Gentlemen, I expect a good fight!]

Let’s see, how far we can fight enemies with statuses above ours?

Chapter 5 - People Are Like This No Matter Where You Look In The World!

Side: Herge Lau Rochelle

I emulate to be a leader on this continent. As the third princess of the country of Rochelle, 生を世に受けました (I received this world? I don't get this phrase). In other words it means that I have the heavy responsibility of leading the people.

Ever since I came to comprehend the world, I believed that Rochelle itself will bring peace to this continent and that it was the only righteous country that could do so. Only under the rule of Rochelle would the people be able to find peace of mind.

And so, I never thought of questioning that. Whenever I would reveal myself to the citizens near the castle, everyone would show me their smiling faces cheering "Princess Herge Banzai (hurray)". That's why I thought that for those people, wasn't there anything I could do.

Royalty couldn't appear on the front lines, and as a princess it wasn't even remotely feasible. I did try running it by mother and father but they just said "If you were ever hurt the people would become sad".

Like that, the days passed as I tried to find something I could do. Both of my elder sisters said that didn't I know that it was impossible "Herge's heart is all that's needed to save the people" and "what are you saying, there's no way you could do anything there".

One day, Oriel who was looking over me said that "If I may be able to give you some advice. Your majesty, it's just as you say. If you can't stand on the front lines then how about offering healing around that area?"

My eyes froze from hearing Oriel's words.

[That's…right. My view was too narrow. Just standing on the front lines isn't the only thing that can help the country nor its people. Thank You Oriel. Then you should look for someone who can teach me healing magic. Normally I would go looking and bow my head but as the princess if I did such a thing there would be unrest among the people.]

[As Herge-sama wishes.]

Then as I was learning healing magic, a miracle occurred. As I was trying to heal some wounded patients, suddenly I was enveloped in a warm light….one of the 3 goddesses of this world, Lilith-sama, descended in front of me.

[Herge Lau Rochelle. I have seen what you have done so far. For you country and its people you have continued to work tirelessly.]

I started kneeling at that place.

[You're too kind but there are still many whose lives are still falling. Lilith-sama's words to me, I am thankful for those from the bottom of my heart but please grant us your blessing not for me but for those who are still struggling to live their lives.]

Hearing my rude words, Lilith-sama's smile still didn't leave her face.

[Rest assured I have received those words. If it's you, even after receiving my blessing you won't lose your way, You want to save people so they won't lose their loved ones right. Then, received my blessing.]

The light enveloped me and I was awarded "Saint of Healing" and "Excellent talent in Magic".

Hearing this story, Yuki-san started looking at me shadily. Yuki started saying [It's boring that its so template-esque….anyway this pattern basically signaled a failure in the future right (flag set). No, currently the princess has already tasted failure.]. I'm embarrassed to say but it's just like he says.

And so after I received the blessing in front of the people they started shouting “Seijo-sama!!(＝saint-sama).” And so I worked even harder than before for the people and the country.

But that didn’t continue for long. I had forgotten that both countries had started fighting each other.

I don’t know the details but I came to set foot in a village from the enemy country.

[This village is that was oppressed by this country’s king and the people of this village that were suffering requested out help. We will go first and secure the village. Princess…no, once Seijo-sama’s safety is established please follow us. Please heal the villagers.]

As I recalled the goddess’ words, without thinking of anything but helping people proceeded to the village but there was only a trampled and burned down village there. There wasn’t even one person alive.

[Some…Someone! Please Reply! Someone!]

As I was about to jump in, I was stopped by Oriel.

[Herge-sama, please calm down. Where is the forward unit!?]

Oriel instructed the forces to spread out and look at the situation, After a while the commanding officer came out and laid out a carpet in front of me and said, [Ha, Seijo-sama, as you ordered. We finished annihilating the villagers who resisted to the very end. As planned, we can use this place as a stopover point. As one would expect of someone with the king’s blood. I am amazed at your wisdom.]

With a bowed head and a happy look he said those words to me….

[Eh, eh…? Wha…What do you mean. Ori…Oriel…]

This merciless scene in front of me was on my orders? I don’t understand.

Oriel with a bitter face escorted me to the tent and explained it to me.

[I'm sorry Herge-sama. In order to enter the foreign country's village rightfully we needed to establish it as our territory.]

It took a while for Oriel's words to reach my body.

[I….If only I hadn't come here. This village…the people…]

Near my foot, a doll came into my view. It was dyed red.

[Aaaaa…aaaaaaaaa.aaaaaaaaaaaa!!!]

[Please calm down, Herge-sama! Herge-sama!]

And so a month after that, using that village as a base we attacked a city. We succeeded in having them surrender.

What "Excellent Seijo"…this is just me spilling blood isn't it.

Side: Mob

[No, help me! Stop it!]

Under me there was a girl, with knife cuts all over her body who was being raped.

Of course the one who was doing it was me. It wasn't interesting at all.

My daughter was around this age too…Aaaa, my thoughts became choppy.

[Agu!?]

Like that I swung the knife down.

It was just reckless stabbing.

[Aa, fat…mother….]

Little by little, her eyes opened and she stopped moving.

[Yo, you seem to have enjoyed yourselves there.]

Next to me, Raiya was standing covered in blood. At his feet there was a woman like mine laying there.

[How'd it go over there, Curse]

[Igyaaaaa! Stoooop!!]

Curse who was attacking a girl without changing his expression fired a fireball at the girl's face.

[Gaaaaaagyaaaa!!]

Already, It didn't sound like a human moreover a girl's voice.

And so, after a few seconds the sound disappeared, there only layed a burned block of flesh.

[Really, I can't feel anything.]

Curse saying that, sat down on a nearby chair.

Us 3 attacked this city that was a part of the country of Rochelle. After that we enjoyed ourselves. Well we didn't enjoy ourselves at all though.

[Hero of the destroyed city, huh, right now its a skill we don't even want.]

The three of them said while sitting on chairs and having an appropriate meal.

Raiya replied to my words.

[It doesn't matter we do or don't. We will attack the seijo and keep attacking her and keeping destroying her pieces, we will exposes everything.]

Words like killing her, those sweet words won't come out anymore Curse.

Why were we doing these crazy things?

It was simple.

We were burned so we are going to burn them. A child's reasoning? I know, but my wife or daughter's regret, our unbearable feelings… its already all messed up.

Normally, we were just adventurers. We had good friends, blessed with a wife and daughter. One day when monsters came into the village we fell in a desperate situation.

When we realized we came to be known as the heroes of that city. There was where I met my wife and my daughter was born. Compared to any treasure or any amount of money they were irreplaceable to me.

My partner raiya replied that [My bad but I too had a promised person with a long relationship]. Its definitely that village girl. There was an age difference but with Raiya as a partner there wasn't anything to be worried about.

[And finding a partner for you was really hard, wasn't it.] I called out to a magician who was related often with this city. Why was finding a partner hard? It's simple. It was because I was the son of the lord of the village and people always thought what is he thinking becoming an adventurer.

[Then, Mob-san's daughter is fine right] was the reply that was returned to me which caused me to lose control. [Do it after you defeat me!!] was my reply in the middle of the tavern….those days were fun.

One day, we got word that Rochelle was advancing towards the village, Raiya's lover was living in. It was being led by the Seijo-sama so we thought that it was relief efforts. Even in the empire, her efforts had entered our ears. But Raiya didn't calm down from that. From that we accepted a quest which told us to go to the village and observe the Rochelle army.

And that was the start of the breaking. The village was reduced to ashes and there was nothing but bodies. Holding her in his arms, I didn't have any words for Raiya.

[I'm alright Mob, Curse.]

Saying that while crying had no persuasive power.

We reported this to the lord but we couldn't just sit back.

The seijo's efforts were heard everywhere so no one belived the information we reported, which turned everyone into our enemies.

After a month, using the village as the base, Rochelle attacked this city. The opponent's actions were unexpected so the resistance wasn't enough. And so the city was left with barely any survivors. Finally the big shots realized that it was Rochelle using the seijo as a sheild and a flag to attack us. But for me, I couldn't care less. After realizing Rochelle attacking us, we started retaliating.

For us it was already too slow. Raiya and Curse's eyes were already clouded.

There was no reason to retreat. Our treasure won't come back anymore.

That's why we didn't have any morals or ethics. We weren't any different than bandits. No, bandits still leave behind things that can be used alive. so they were better than us who got rid of everything.

[Aaaa, where are you Seijo-sama?]

And so we passed by a flag that we thought we had seen before.

Side: Herge Lau Rochelle

After attacking that village the strife became more grim. The opponent's cites still kept falling but the opponent also started attacking. This side and that side too, a number of cities and villages had burned down.

Washing blood with blood…after all it was my fault for starting this right?
Oriel says that's wrong but I can't remove that scene from that village from my eyes.

[…Smoke]

This is supposed to be withing our own country but that flag is… has the enemy already reached us.

[Sorry driver, but this place is dangerous. Hurry up and drive past…]

Before Oriel could complete her thought, suddenly the carriage rolled on it side.

[uguuu…]

My whole body hurts…When I look up, with a pained face, Oriel was protecting me by holding me close.

[Herge-sama…Are you alright?…I'm sorry]

Oriel's leg was facing a weird position.

[Oriel!!!I will heal you right…]

But I wasn't able to heal her, when I realized my situation, I was on the ground.

[Eh…goboo…]

My voice that came out was really strange.

[Herge-sama]
[Oi, Oi, did she say Herge]
[Ah]
[This is the Seijo?]

That's how we fell to become slaves…no, it was a natural conclusion.

Side: Oriel

I couldn't protect Herge-sama.
Currently we were currently the slaves of 3 men who seemed to be mercenaries and we passed our days being tormented…

[It hurrtss!]

Herge-sama's voice echoed. I have to protect her.

[Sto…]

Dragging my blood covered body to Herge-sama. When I was caught, my leg was broken. These mercernaries also broke my other leg and my right arm.

[Igiii…!]

Herge-sama's voice echoed. Somehow, if only I could get there.

[Ah? Oi, Raiya]
[Ah]

The man named Raiya grabbed my broken leg and started dragging me…

[Agaa…!!]

My eyes became blurry from the pain.
Trying to bear the pain, the man named Raiya seemed to sense something.

[This feeling, A dungeon huh…I just came up with a great idea]

His empty eyes suddenly faced me.

[Oi, Mob, there's a dungeon nearby]
[So, what do you wanna do. Oi, you're covered with blood aren't you Seijo-sama. So dirty!]

Making fist, he puched Herge in the face.

She's already in a state where she can't even raise her voice.
Raiya seeing that, started telling his plans.

[She will realize a woman's happiness if she becomes a goblin's wife right?]

[Aaaaahhh!!]

In front of my eyes, I saw Herge-sama dyed in red. Bringing her to this state and still trying to steal the little dignity she still has…!!

[Shut up, caterpillar (could be subbed for worm)]

As soon as I heard that, my head recieved a blow. I sank into darkness. (faints)

Side: Kasuya - The protagonist?

N?

I started having doubts after seeing my opponents actions.
Not using slaves as sheilds, Like that they arrived in front of G Comapany's 1st squad and threw them in front of them.

[Here, we have some females here, hurry up and rape them.]

I recieved that type of voice from the monitor.
Ah, that's how it is. I understand after thinking about it for a bit. The master can see their slaves' statuses and so these 3 men know that their slaves were not commoners.

And still, they didn't give them to the empire nor return them back to Rochelle, so they must have some personal grudge…

Yup, its a drama alright…its bloodstained though.

But sorry, I don't care for the tragedy or the dramatic ending.

This seems like some story in a movie or something but I have my own reasons and goals.

[Conduct Operations as planned. Do it!]

That's how I gave my orders.

At the end of the day, if I had to say something it would be "there are people like this no matter where you look in the world" right?

Chapter 6 - Operation Complete! Shall We Have A Word?

Where did last time's big story go? Meta appearing. Don't mind.

Let's ask in reverse, if you guys were fighting while risking your life, would you stop attacking if like in movies the enemy starts crying their eyes out.

You might ask why am I frivolously talking like this? It's simple.

[G company take the prisoners to where the 2nd squad is stationed for holding. The remaining two squads will resume their normal duties while taking precautions against any enemy reinforcements.]

All objectives cleared. Capturing successful. Ally casualties zero. Complete Victory.

Eh, where did the level difference from the beginning go? This is that lesson isn't it where things don't always go 100% in the world.

Well let me tell you what transpired in the post-op debriefing.

Accomplishing primary objective took 3 minutes.

Its already at the level of preparing a bath. (I didn't get this) []

The three from the primary objective and the 2 from the secondary objective where presented before causing be to at loss of words. But after that the operation transition went by smoothly.

Let me explain the events that occurred at 1st interception point alpha.

It took place at the center crossroads of the first floor.

There G company's 1st squad was used as a decoy to lure the enemy in and attract their attention.

Starting of the battle was delayed slightly because their goals weren't as clear as they could have been.

In a way it helped us out since we could accomplish the secondary objective by capturing the two slaves.

The primary objective was successful as the enemy was caught in the crossfire in the middle of the crossroad. Of course there weren't any guns or anything like that.

The third phase of the plan occurred as the enemy was surrounded by my subordinates.

Eh, where was this military operation from? Fantasy right? No, no, its like something I saw in some light novel where the monsters were free to move around preventing the enemy to attack them efficiently.

Well, anyhow, they finally realized that falling in this situation was part of the plan and that they just got trapped.

[Oi, this is…]

[… The goblins….Curse, can I count on you?]

[Leave it to me, give me 20 seconds]

No, no, you guys are already trapped. Both the front and the sides have the 3 squads from G company and behind them is 1 squad of the S company.

But that wasn't all. Don't you guys remember? The slime exclusive hole that I had already made.

And so, the slimes attacked from the ceiling, latched on to the magician's face interrupting his incantation. While also choking him just as planned.

[Whga…]

[Shit, don't move curse!!]

The other two moved to support the magician. The other two also had slimes latched onto their faces. This strategy was posted in the forums.

The modernization of the slimes' group battle strategies Part 2

110: Anonymous

I thought they wouldn't be able to read the atmosphere but they replied seriously.

Burying themselves in the opponents lungs and mouth so they couldn't breathe.

If they attack from the ceiling, they're pretty much unbeatable against humans aren't they?

To make it work perfectly you would need to make sure the opponent doesn't have his guard against enemies from the ceiling, so a diversion is needed.

111: Anonymous

Well if you're thinking about this seriously, then the most efficient strategy would be this. Most living things' eyes and mouth are near each other so if you could block them, you pretty much win.

….I guess even against a Maou, this could earn me victory.

112: Anonymous

No, no, as you would expect that wouldn't work.

After all it's a Maou. Using some sort of magic they could just block the slime off. It's the same with a Hero right?

113: Anonymous

I don't know so I can't say for sure that it won't work. You don't if any of this would work in reality. Whether its blown off or not. Ah, but the question would be what would happen if the slime used was the type to have core?

114: Anonymous

In that case, you could cover the respiratory organs using most of the body and then extend the core away to another place so the the opponent would be in a daze trying to get it off his/her face while the core would stay safe.

That's how the conversation went. Forums are pretty scary-. I understood this when I used the slimes.

The result being

[Ga, bo,bo]

[Go, bo, bo,b]

The primary objective was accomplished so easily that I moved these 3 to the secondary objective. Successful capture. From now on, lets use these convenient slimes to manage this dungeon. (Slimes are OP in this and the novel about the man picked up the gods)

[This…is?]

[Herge-sama]

The two women who were left there didn't seem to comprehend what just happened. Well, while I'm waiting for them to be brought to me, I have better my own issues.

The operation was too perfect, If you think it would proceed normally like this, it would turn into a very serious situation when an operation fails. It's always my turn! I have to bear it. (?)

In different way, I have the "I've done it now" feeling. Of course, I couldn't purposely cause the operation to fail. Right here, I have to properly instruct the solders.

[Nevertheless, this time's results will raise the standard of our dungeon.]

While saying that, I arrived at the hospital (ward).

The 3rd floor has not only my room but various facilities that I thought would be useful.
(Well even if I say it's a hospital, compared to Japan its just a room)
After all since I haven't been earning DP, the room just has simple beds.
It's at the level of wooden beds with straw on them.

(I had no choice but to do it patiently, after all its only been 9 days)
I wanted to make a place for sleeping for the subordinates but they seem to be making their own living quarters on the second floor.

While thinking about various things, I arrived in front of my goal.

Kon, kon, kon, kon (knock, knock)
Even if I'm in a different world, I'm not about to bend my pride or manners.
Although, I already seem to have broken some of those promises.

When there was no answer, I entered into the room causing the two girls to stare at me.

[Just what the heck are you doing?]
[…Herge-sama…please fall back]

Thinking this situation would proceed favorably would make me seem to be too optimistic, but I can't move forward unless I talk.

[Let's see, would please listen to what I have to say?]

Now then, Shall I try my best?

Chapter 7 - With The Best Of Intentions, My Motive Is To Help People!! It's A Lie Though!!

In front of my eyes, there were two women on a simple bed trying to examine me.

Hmm, why are the two of them on the same bed?

Ah, the young lady moved near the maid huh.

I guess after the two of them suddenly got captured they couldn't just sit there quietly being treated.

The maid might have moved towards the princess but realistically speaking, since she broke both her legs, that would be a problem. If she did infact had moved then that would have been worth praising but I guess it would also remind me of a horror type of feeling if I saw that at night.

[Oriel, don't overdo it. Any more than this…]
[No, until my life runs out, I will be by your side.]
Ok, It became horror-esque.
[Yeah, yeah, please listen to my story]
[I can treat you guys, but I would like you to abide by certain conditions.]
[Don't screw with me, Do you know who this person is?]
[Wait, Oriel…Could you also tell me some things? Why did you not forcefully make us submit to you?]

Hou, she seems to have a pretty high capacity to think.

Hmm, why did I not forcibly make them slaves and do this and that to them?

Let me prepare a simple answer. A japanese person wouldn't just accept slaves. (Most people in mondern times would be against it so it makes sense.)

They probably wouldn't believe me though.
In most light novels or manga, it's proably a japanese person's kindness? But its also alright if its a characteristic of the protagonist.

[Returning a question in reply to a question is rude but what's the advantage in making you slaves?]

Right, the problem is the word "Slave".
She, the princess, seem to have a face that just oozed the feeling that she couldn't understand what I was talking about.

[Eh, tha, use in manual labor, or… indecent deeds, maybe.]

Including the latter part, that's what the benefits of a slave are. It's being "forced".

Even on earth, the slavery system still existed. In short it could still be used. (we are slaves to corporations now- Mr. Robot)
But, even then, on earth the slavery system even if in just appearances is not accepted.

Because it's not humane?
Don't say stupid shit, you aren't listening to such a ostensible reason right?
It's just too inefficient.

In a way, in the short term it's very efficient since all you have to do is gather people instead of paying wages.
"Rebellion" "Rioting" "Skill development stagnation"
There are a mountain of minus points that come with that short term benefit. At a certain point earthlings recognized that.
Below the surface, people being used as slaves, even on earth there's a ton of situations like that.
It's not like that? Don't be stupid. Even now there are a lot of countries in the middle of civil wars.
They aren't slaves? Then replacing the top of the country peacefull would end all the problems, right?

Even in modern Japan, the country's top get replaced regularly.
That alone won't improve anything. It won't stop. It wouldn't ever stop.
Countries like that still exist.
But, publically you will never hear the word "Slave" being flung around. If you did that then, thanks to the information society of earth, every country in the world would turn against you.

Well, that was long. My true motive is that if I use slaves to manage the dungeon, then in the short term it might be beneficial but in the long term it would be useless.
[Hmm, using you guys "forcefully" as slaves might be be good]
[Ehhhh]

This person's a princess right? Is her head full of flowers? (As smart as a lawyer is honest)
[Then is the person next to your slave? I don't know which city of village you come from but is everyone there a slave?]
(There no way it's like that. I trust Oriel. I would never ever look down on her as if she was my slave.]
[It's strange isn't it. Even if you didn't trust them as long as they were your slave then it would be fine anyway right?]
[I don't desire something like…]

That's how she understood the topic's conclusion.

[You want us to trust you…possibly, it won't work unless that happens right?]
[That's how it is, it's fine if you refuse. It's not like I'm forcing like a slave. Well, I have my own circumstances too. I don't need slaves but those who I could trust.
[Then in order to earn our trust, please treat Oriel's wounds.]
[Don't say stupid things, I don't know that Oriel person. There's now guarantee that she will attack me the moment she's healed right?]

How should I put it, healing the person who staring you like your her mortal foe without any guarantees, who would be the stupid one then.
Personally, no matter how many cheats a protagonist was given when he/she was thrown into a new world, someone who treats someone like that would be labeled “stupid” by me.

[Oriel won’t attack you since you have saved my life, that I guarantee.]
[Uh, no, it’s impossible to guarantee that. That’s why first listen to my conditions.]
[…That’s fine. Speaking of that, I haven’t heard your conditions.]
[Then let me proceed in a simple way. You will let me cast my skill assigned guardian on you.]
[Assigned Guardian? It’s a skill I haven’t heard of]

[The effect is that whoever this skill is cast on the following effects will be generated: “Guaranteed safety” “Movement outside assigned zone restricted” “Causing harm to others is prohibited”, etc. This would be the things cast on you due to the skill. There nothing you will be forced to do like a slave would.]
[Nothing will be forced but it will be like a prisoner of war right? It’s not just this right? This isn’t all the conditions right? This will just be in regards to guaranteeing your own safety. Its seems to me from your previous story that you seem to have some other goal.]

[Oh my, I thought you were just a princess as a decoration(?) but you have thought of various things right? I have a better opinion of you now.]
[Yes, I have fallen all the way to a “Slave”. So no matter how much hope I have lost, if I can protect Oriel who has followed me uptil now then I will keep doing anything I can until the very end.]

[My conditions are that I would like your cooperation. I won’t reveal the particulars but I would like information on this continent. I saw that you were someone who resides in the upper echelons of society so lend me your knowlege. I won’t say give it to me for free. Depending on you cooperation from now on, I will free you and return you back to your own country.]
[Alright, I accept your terms. Oriel it’s alright, right?]
[…If Herge-sama say that then it’s fine]

[OK, then let me cast my skill]
[Please wait a moment, those men from before are still alive right. If you won’t free us first then.]
[Ah, I will ask them if it doesn’t work. But first let me try to cast it.]

I heard from Luna that anyone with the slavery collar on can be forced to listen to orders. Obviously, “attacking your master is forbidden” is a basic order that’s inserted in the collars. But my skill, overwrites that, atleast that’s what Luna said.

[Negotiating with your master on everything is troublesome isn’t it. Properly negotiating is one thing but negotiating is impossible when your opponent has one foot in the grave right?]

Then you might say that won’t it be fine if you just forcefully cast your skill on them. But the casting restriction is that the opponent has to willingly accept the spell or it won’t work.

When I cast the skill, only the princess had light envelop her and was released from the collar.
[…]
[It really came off! Then, I accepted your conditions. Please quickly treat Oriel!]
[I didn’t tell you this on purpose but this skill won’t work on someone unless they “accept” from their heart. Look at Miss Oriel over there.]
[…Oriel, you weren’t released, can’t be…]
[It, It’s not like that! That guy without fail just forgot to cast it on me!!]

[Hou, I’m the bad guy?]

This woman’s no good. It was good that I was on guard. This is proof that you can’t traverse through like just on good intentions.

[Please, give her one more chance…]
Herge, got on her knees and bowed her head.

[Even though, personally I would ignore it but will miss Oriel accept my conditions? Your master is bowing head to me for you.]
[…Alright, I accept your conditions. But, if you hurt Herge-sama, I will definitely kill you]
[Oriel!!]

Even though Herge chided her, Oriel didn’t stop staring at me.

[It's fine with me, besides aside from the conditions, I didn't have any intention to restrict you. Then, here I go]
And so, the collar fell from Oriel's head.
[Well then, let me begin treating you. "Extra Heal"]

The two women were wrapped in a light green light.

[Wha, Extra Heal! Moreover on multiple targets! Are you a famous healer?]

Herge-san…The princess was looking at me with a surprised look.
Oriel stood up and then tried to open and close her hands. Then she jumped for a little while.
That's how she confirmed that she was properly healed.

[I won't say thanks. This was a deal, afterwards I will properly retain the favor.]
[Oriel!!]

[Ah, if you just follow the terms of the deal than there's no problem. Something like "Trust" is built so fast anyway. For now just rest here and we can discuss more things tommorrow.]

Saying that I moved to leave the room.
[Ah, Thank You very much. It might be rude now but my name is Herge. What is your name if I may ask?]

I won't say my full name but well I guess I need to tell what to call me.
Well in any case I guess I will introduce myself.

[That was rude of me. My name is Yuki. You might have realized but I am the manager of this dungeon. Well if you have any problems, you can just call the goblins standing outside. We will try to accomodate you as much as we can.]

Saying that, I left the room.

Chapter 8 - Let's Listen To Some Information!

Side: Herge Lau Rochelle

The door closed in front of my eyes. I heard the footsteps go farther away.
[A dungeon master? That can't be]
I murmered by myself.
He introduced himself as "Dungeon Adminstrator".
But, with the current situations, he…Yuki-san wouldn't tell us a lie.
I was sheltered? insde a dungeon, and there I encountered supposed vile creatures who were especially hated by women, goblins.
Those goblins took us here without hurting us.

[Oriel, do you believe Yuki-san when he said that he was a dungeon master?]
[With the current situation, I don't think he would lie but I also think he didn't tell use the truth.]
[I also agree with that…]
[Yes, he, Yuki wasn't it, I still can't make a judgement on our circumstances. Even though I said that, Yuki did treat us and therefore kept true his word]

Oriel frowned as she recalled what she had said before.

[Orield, as I thought, you…]
[Yes, I'm very sorry. Not as far as killing but I thought we should take take control of the situation.]

I can't say that I don't understand her feelings. We don't know what the opponent's expectations were as he put us under his protection.
But, Yuki-san at the moment is keeping his word.
We, who were suffering after being turned into slaves, were freed by him after all.

[I don't know what will happen from now on but as long as there is no harm that could come upon us, we will not interact with Yuki-san with hostility of violence.

[Yes, I accept. But, Assigned Guardian…the act itself seems to already have been sealed. After I was healed, I tried to hit him but I couldn't.]
[You…]

Oriel's dedication is something I'm thankful for but this time it went too far. Right now he's done nothing wrong. In fact, he not only treated us but also freed us from the slavery collars. Normally you would thank someone by bowing your head even if they were a dungeon master.

[Tommorow, it seems we will have a chance to speak more. We have to properly apologize and give thanks Oriel.]
[…I am unable to promise that. For me, Herge-sama's safety takes priority.]
[Oriel!]

I lectured Oriel until it was time for a meal.

Side: Kasuya Torino Alias: Yuki For the time being the protagonist (lol)

Well first lets proceed with the women's story. The guys also had various things happen but, well they were lacking in ability so I left them out. The next time I come up with something I will talk with them.

After all, that day I told them that I would talk with the tommorow and went back to my room.
Right now its 8:00 a.m.: Like always I woke up to my cell phone alarm.
The first day I doubted that I had actually come to another world but human adapt fast. Right away, I opened the map and made sure that nothing was strange. Well, even if there was something wrong with the dungeon or there was an invasion the alarm would sound. But after all, I still worry about things.

635 DP

Oh, It increased more than I thought. The three guys I captured yesterday in the dungeon didn't have the guardianship apply to them so every hour their MP was absorbed and changed to DP. The women too weren't put under the guardianship immmediately so they too gave the dungeon about 1-2 hrs worth of MP.

If there's a light battle or a battle without any humans, then I'm not to be alerted when I'm sleeping as long its judged that it can be handled properly.
Well, disregarding that, if I think about it, every hour 1% of the MP of the prisoners is absorbed.
Having prisoners with MP in the thousands is indeed delicious.
Let me think about using this path later…For now. lets eat breakfast quickly and get information from the two girls.

After eating my fill, I went to their room with a notepad and a ballpen since ofcourse a PC would only cause confusion.
I could've bought a map with the "Soko Hore Wan Wan" but it was a whopping 10,000 DP.
Thinking about various things, I arrived where the girls were.

[Good morning. How are you feeling today?]
[Thank you for asking. We feel fine.]
[Is that so, Miss Oriel was it, are you also alright?]
[Ah, there's no problem…Yesterday, I was impolite. Because of the circumstances I was overly antagonistic.]

Oriel apologized a little awkwardly.

[No, Please don't mind. So, about our discussion…is it fine for you to give some information?]
[Yes, we don't mind. But, Yuki-san are you really a dungeon master. We aren't doubting you but you are completely different from the stories we have heard about dungeon masters.]
[Please excuse me but I don't understand what those dungeon masters that Herge-sama speaks of are like]
[What do you mean by that?]
[I was…]
[Please wait a second, I don't mind if you speak normally. (he was speaking formally the whole time)]
[If that is so, I will take take you up on that offer. When I woke up I was suddenly made a manager of this dungeon or as you would say master.]

After that I started telling them a story built on lies. I didn't know what the name of this continent was, and the place where I was from didn't have dungeons. Before I came to live in this dungeon, I was a normal person living in a city. (In a way he's not lying)
But, I intuitively understood that I was connected with the dungeon core here and that if anything happened to it, something bad would also happen to me. Although I lost my bearings, for the time being I protected this dungeon while trying to find people to talk to…

I guess it just kept coming out. Well most of it wasn't a lie just with slight differences in meaning.

[So that's what happened, Something like that]
[Ah, you might not believe me but please understand. I was also confused in the begining.]
[No, I trust Yuki-san's actions. What do you think Oriel?]
[It makes sense. Besides there's no point in deceiving us here.]
[Alright, well is it alright if I ask you a few things.]
[Yes no problem.]

And so, I asked about the information that I needed right now.
From now on, I started recording the question and anwer in a itemized list.

Dungeon administrator…Called Dungeon Master…When a dungeon is finished, a suppression party is immediately dispatched, It becomes a place for surveillance by adventurers and a familiar training ground for knights. The dungeon is also dangerous and the only safe place in a dungeon would be where the core is located. If the monsters are strong enough to be used as training partners then the dungeon isn't captured immediately.

Also, a dungeon that has a dungeon master like me, is assigned the highest of level of danger, It's been recorded up to now that 12 of these were found. Each time one was found, the country would send a company made up of its imperial guard to subjugate it. But in 2 instances there were dungeons that were strong enough to swallow a Maoh (demon king) and a powerful country back in those days.

A hero…as I thought they seem to exist, there seem to be heroes that rise from people of this world and that there have been a number of these heroes that have lived and died in these world. But even among them the heroes that come from another world are granted extraordinarily powerful skills suited for combat. Shit, after all they have other world summoning here.

Maoh….that too is according to the template. The king that rules the demons (mazoku) and apparitions (mamono). Well my definition is vague so I attached the definitions of this world. Well like there would be demon king who would just come out and say "show me your skills, ore ga maoh da (i am the demon king)". Right now there seem to be two Demon kings on this continent. I will think of their names if I ever meet them.

Regarding this continent…I can't understand its size based just on the conversation but the current location the dungeon is at is part of the country of Rochelle. 15 km from here there seems to be a city. "Shit! Isn't 15 km too close?" I panicked thinking that but I guess this is a different world. There are no cars in this world and travel is by horses. Also outside the city there are a lot of mamono so travel is made more difficult. I guess Luna was right in situating me in this location.

Regarding the country of Rochelle…It's said to be one of the five top nations in the continent. It said to be extremely powerful country that's not looked down upon by others. Right now its in the middle of a struggle with another country with regards to territory. I felt that there was some exageration since in front of me there was the country's princess.
I don't know if she would tell me the situation regarding the country's defence but when I asked her the population of the capital she gave the answer easily. [200,000 people reside in the flourishing capital and with benevolent king will continue to increase.]
200,000 people huh…As I thought, its the level of medieval Europe.

In regards to currency…it moves by the 10 incremental rule which helps me out a lot.
Copper < Silver < Gold < White Gold
1 gold coin can support a family of four for a month. Also the denominations (unit) are [Foru/Folu]

Regarding race…Like Luna said, those with animal ears attached are the beast race, the elves, the human race, and there are also those who are halves.
Well I recieved various information from them, gradually as I thought that I was getting hungry, it became 12 o'clock in the afternoon.

[Sorry for taking such a long time. Shall I prepare lunch?]

Chapter 9 - All Planned. Anger, Dislike, Tear, Apology And Reconciliation

During 3 days, in order to collect more information, I kept chatting with Herge and Oriel. This made our friendship stronger.

Today, after having a lot of fun, I made this situation while we were drinking tea.

(Herge) Yuki-San, I got a request」

Yuki is me and there is a good reason for me to use a false name.

(Yuki)「What is it?」

(Herge)「Could we get out of here? We have some things to do」

(Yuki)「After all… Do you intend to go?」

(Herge)「Yes! I don't want to repeat the same kind of tragedy that happened with Mauve and as a Princess, I have to stop the fight!」

This is the princess of the Roshuru's country.

Herge and Oriel asked me to punish Mauve which apparently did some outrageous things to them. And… Capital punishment has been required.

It's because they are currently under my protection but even with this, meddling with Mauve was still too much.
I understand where they're coming from. But without hearing the other side, it's impossible for me to decide if I would kill them or not.
To be frank, the social positions of those adventurers are a bit too high to treat it too lightly.
(TL : Actually, he said : with light footwork, it probably means something really specific, but it's out of my comprehension)

(Yuki)「Please I need to attach a proper reason, so let me talk to them first」
On this, I told them to wait for a moment.
But they kept trying to stop me from doing it, please…

(Oriel)「If a softhearted like you talk with such a beast, you will definitely be killed!」
Oriel ! You're getting violent !

(Herge)[I agree with Oriel ! There is no way that such a patronizing person woul'd listen to you, or anyone!」
Even Herge is saying things like this.

Their reactions were exactly the same as I expected. So I said what I had planned.
(Yuki)「Then maybe you could come with me and stand a little further, so we could hear them together and you'll be able to save me if i'm in danger.」
They took few seconds to consider my proposition and finally agreed with it.

Actually, Mauve isn't really "alive" anymore. It's more like a creature which has been biologically "fully burned out"

I heard about the quarrel between the Roshuru's and Gal's country from them.
Thanks to Herge, it became the perfect reason to start an invasion ,wich caused a village and a town to be burned down. The country of Gal bogged down ran in a counterattack,
A reason with this degree was said to me. In the long run, the probability that someone considered Mauve as a victim of war would increase.
When it's not the case, it's impossible to get a Princess and make it a slave anyway.

I finally met Mauve and introduced myself. When I told her I was a dungeon master, my face instantly filled in of pride, but I quickly took my self-control back and returned to an expressionless face. The lifeless face asked me.
(Mauve)「The slave… The Princess… Is she alive?」
(Yuki)「Well, yes」

(Mauve)「I see…」

(Yuki)「Why did you enslaved the princess? Even in the country of Gal I would have made fame and money from it.」

After a long time, Mauve began to talk.
Wife and daughter…An Acquaintance was an enemy of the village and town.
Tears appeared in Mauve's eyes and started to hit the ground.

The Princess and Oriel were astonished when they heard it.

(Mauve)「I lost the treasure which is more important than money and fame.」
(Yuki)「Is that so…」
(Mauve)「Angry, I've been hired as a mercenary to burn the town of Rushuru.」

(Yuki)「Right…」
(Mauve)「I raped and killed as my wife and daughter were done.」
「…」
「…」
(Mauve)「I caught the Princess and tried to kill her, this limit I learned it thanks to you…」

(Yuki)「When did I disturbed it?」
(Mauve)「Unfortunatly I've been unable to cool off; thanks to you… After all this, nothing returned to this empty dad… I think if my wife and daughter found out what I did, they would be mad at me. In fact, I would be scolded. 「Father who did such a thing! Whyyyy?」」

Raija Curse and Mauve laughed weakly. The look on their faces is embarrassing.

(Mauve)「Well, even if it's like this, she's a Princess right?」
(Yuki)「That's right」
(Mauve)「Kill me down please, I won't resist. I don't want to be scolded by my wife and daughter anymore.」

Right now the three of them are lowering their heads.

(Yuki)「Oh don't hurry! Did you hear this Herge?」
(Herge)「…Yes.」
Herge which has her eyes deep red is supported by Oriel comes out.

(Yuki)「The past you constructed is quite good, but the Princess will choose how it will end.」

Mauve got a little bit of is vigor back. A light smile is floating on his face.

But this isn't a reason to drop the weapons. Oriel is stomping her foot on the ground while Herge is lowering her head.
(Herge)「Mo… Forgi..ve me … I'm sorry… so sorry… sorry… sorry…」

With sorrow and tears, she is repeating "I'm sorry".

(Oriel)「No, wait? What on earth is happening? Did you do something?」

What I saw really surprised me. The strange behavior of Herge about Mauve.

Herge told him something I heard once in a series 「I don't know whether you're saying the truth…」just like this。

After Mauve heard what she said, he took a look a glance at the Princess and loosened his shoulder a bit. Followed by Raija and Curse on the back.

(Mauve)「Holy Woman truly does exist.」
(Oriel)「Hey!」
(Herge)「No.」

(Mauve)「Please raise your face, Princess, I'm not a guy who can solicit a favor from a Princess. I'm the brute who ran out of control and misunderstood.」

(Herge)「But…Because I was here, in your town and village…」
(Mauve)「Even if the story from Princess is different from the one I heard at the town…. I'll still believe in you」
(Raija or Curse)「Yes Princess! We will believe your words….

Going so deep was our sins!」
(Mauve)「Anger and rage… all of it went out」

Is Mauve reconciled with Herge now?
Look like she made up her mind to stop this quarrel.

I'll never tell about this dungeon. This Princess shall protect this dungeon to repay the kindness received.

She's looking at this place with determined eyes.
Well, I have to say as an advertisement, you should do dungeon's operations

(Yuki)「The skill Guardian Appointment can restrain you, with it you won't be able to speak about the Dungeon」
(Yuki)「Well…Because Herge is trusted after all I will not do it this time」
(Herge)「Then we may leave and return to the country!!」
(Yuki)「There is one condition for settling. If you agree with it I'll let you go. I'll let the protection aside for now because it doesn't count inside the Dungeon.」
(Herge)「Thank you very much. What's the condition?」

(Yuki)「I want you to take Mauve with you. He'll be a guard. There is also something I'd like to buy in town」
(Herge)「I see, it's reassuring. Hey, Oriel?」
(Herge)「Good, he got considerable capacity and it would be perfect for guard duty.」
Mauve talked about my circumstances (Falsehood is mixed into some extent). And all three of them laughed at the funny story and willingly consented to the full protection.

Well, I hope that I can live quietly with this…
If only it was possible!
After seeing the 5 people who were leaving hastily off, I worked hard to reinforce the dungeon and earn more DP.

Chapter 10 - Stacking Up Troubles

side : Herge . Rau . Roshuru

I was in the Royal capital now.
It's 5 days from Yuki-San's Dungeon. Thanks to Mauve-San, we had a safe trip until here.
From now on I wanted to end this tragedy.

(Herge)「Thank you very much Mauve-San for the travel. I want to stop the war, even at the cost of my life.」

Mauve-San looks embarrassed when I declared it so clearly.

(Mauve)「Princess, This feeling of yours is wonderful, but please don't force yourself. It was hard for me to find the hope to live again. So, don't make the fact that Yuki helped wasteful.」

The fact that the strange Dungeon Master helped Mauve-San reconcile with life is a good argument. However, he wasn't here now.
「I don't want to go out of the dungeon. It's because I don't know when someone will aim for my life.」
He said his farewell and stayed inside the Dungeon.

(Herge)「The kindness received, I could not return it to Yuki-San after all.」

He said that it was enough with the information I gave him, but I felt that it was still not enough to repay him.

(Mauve)「 I understand your feeling, I would not be able to follow you openly here. Princess, you should be careful.」
(Herge)「If I make room for it and the war and, it should be able to help Yuki-san in various ways.」

I can't speak about the Dungeon Master now in this confused country. It would bring dangers to Yuki-San and other countries would have openings.

Like this, I reached the Fountain Square in the Royal Capital while we talked.

(Mauve)「 I have to go, to handle Yuki's errand. Farewell. 」
(Herge)「Yes, thank you for your kindness. 」

I intended to treat Mauve-San in the Royal castle.

(Mauve)「You stop! I don't need to get praised by a Princess. Are you even following your virtues? 」
(Herge)「Huh? It's really rude! 」

My virtue remained safe, whether you like it or not it's up to you, but you should feel Lucky.
After all, I enjoy when he was confused me.

(Herge)「Will you stay a while in the Royal Capital? 」
(Mauve)「I wanted to run various errands for myself incidentally. Also, I want to learn new funny stories for my wife and daughter 」
(Herge)「… I see 」
(Mauve)「… 」
(Oriel)「… 」

(Herge)「Then, I'm looking forward to the day we can meet again. 」
(Mauve)「I think that the possibility to meet is high if you come to the Dungeon. 」

After they said this, the group of 3 left the place.

(Herge)「Oriel, from here on, this is our battlefield. Will you come with me? 」
(Oriel)「Yes, I will follow you to the battlefield or anywhere. 」

side : Mauve

(Curse)「Hoho, Is Yuki's errand done? 」

While we were moving, Curse called me out.

(Mauve)「Please, wait a moment. Did you hear what Yuki said? The possibility that a troublesome fact will happen now is really high, right? I also need to watch for a long time until I can see how things are going in the Palace.」
(Curse)「It's not a hobby nor a reason, right? If you came looking for a maid slave. You can do it in no your time.」

It was on the way to my duty, I encountered Curse and Raija.

(Raija)「Mauve-San is still the same as ever right?」
(Curse)「Seems right? Come and have a look at the state of the Royal Castle with us. If you do it, we should be able to help with the errand for that man.」

(Instructor)「Amongst other things, there is a point that I can't reach, Foundation is certainly the basic for groups battle.」
I look for the location of the person's abusing language I heard a short while ago.

(Mauve)「 Is it the place? Can't you give me a little break these days?」

Freed on time from my "madness" thanks to Yuki, Although there was a lot of things that didn't come back to me either, I was now way better than when I was in "that condition".
But a slave to do housework in the Dungeon… He didn't instruct me on what kind of slave I should buy… I guess someone like a worker is a good choice.

I entered a back alley where I could be alone.

「I'm calling Yuki, please answer.」

As Yuki's follower, To be able to speak with another follower, Yuki gifted me a skill called "Substance" we can use it freely when needed. Isn't it convenient?
(TL : Please, remember that this skill exists because they will often use it but not mention it again).

(Yuki)『What? Mauve's operation? What happened? I'm busy now, did they move already?』

(Mauve)「No it's something else. I would like you to h help me. I want know what kind of slave should be bought.」
(Yuki)『I didn't say it, right… Mmm, a young woman would do, because it will be something like a housemaid?』
(Mauve)「That's we can understand… If it's a granny housemaid, even if she is protected inside the Dungeon, she would probably not have a long life.」
(Yuki)『That's it. The appearance and the species aren't important. Yes, so please prevent the different race that they don't need to be afraid of each other.』
(Mauve)「Why? And the different race, wouldn't they be confused between etiquette and relation?」
(Yuki)『I desire an intelligent and expecting species. I would like to know more about them. I wonder how many species exist?』
(Mauve)「I understand, they seem to have what you're looking for here.」
(Yuki)『I'll enjoy it. I'm looking forward to seeing your taste.』
(Mauve)「Oh! That was your purpose?」
(Yuki)『Bu』
(Mauve)「That! Hey, cut it out! Hey!」

Even if I did not want to buy a slave alone, It was decided that 「Mauve」 will make it up to is liking.
There's a high possibility that we can buy someone with the same age as my daughter, no?
If Raija and Curse don't participate, only I will look like a pervert.
I thought so and entered the detestable shop.

side : Oriel

(Seraria)「Herge!! The safety here feels good, don't you agree!? I was so scared that you would get discovered inside the carriage, I felt like I was dying from the slowness!」
(Herge)「Older Sister, it is really difficult to please you…」

Before my eyes was Herge-Sama's elder sister, Seraria-Sama. She is embracing us while crying.
Seraria-Sama has a sharp tongue, but what she was saying did not match her behavior.

We are inside Seraria-Sama's own room in the Palace.

We could enter the Royal Palace without trouble. The soldiers at the gate were somehow surprised, but we were allowed to meet up with his Majesty easily.
(Seraria)「Herge… I'm so glad! Oriel, thank you for all your work and devotion.」
I got praised here. But actually, I became a slave, I was far from protecting her…

(Seraria)「Someone, here!!」.
(Someone)「Yes, I'm here.」
(Seraria)「Prepare for Herge's favorite black tea and favorite cake. Fast!!」
(Someone)「I obey your command.」
(Herge)「Older sister, you don't have to do this much.」
(Seraria)「What are you saying, it's not for you, it's for me!!」

This scene would cause anyone to smile. even an outsider.
Because it was peaceful, I can't help but remember the word said by Yuki.

(Yuki)「Now I'll say the things I expect to happen. I can't look at that place actually. But if you want to protect Herge, No need to worry about ordinary things. However, regarding… it's different…」

Yuki had this talk only with me. I thought it was because he wanted to tell me that worrying about Herge was unnecessary.
The content was about Herge and of she was used for the war.

(Yuki)「I think you can understand, but if Herge was used by another person, that guy will still use her.」
(Oriel)「I'm thinking the same.」
(Yuki)「While raising several patterns, You can be relieved that the worst did not happen.」

It's as the following:

Pattern 1: where the Princess is used has already ended. It eased my mind.
If it the case, I'm really thankful.

Pattern 2:
A group was using Herge-Sama as an excuse to promote the war.
With this one, If we're not careful with our actions, the same tragedy will happen once again.
Because the invasion was carried in the name of Herge, it was still possible.

Pattern 3:
I don't know about the background of those people, but in the worst possibility, they plan to kill Herge.
Yuki guessed the most of their plan.
Yuki said that our carriage got caught near the battlefield.
If this is the truth, then I'll definitely murder the rebel!

(Seraria)「Look, it's delicious! Have a drink Herge.」
(Herge)「Older sister, don't hurry so much」
(Seraria)「Fast, drink…Kof…Kof」
(Herge)「Sister?」

I came back to my sense when I heard a heartbreaking sound. Seraria-Sama was holding her throat and had a really painful look. While I was approaching Seraria-Sama in order to help her, The door of the room opened with a loud bang.

(???)「Seraria-Sama!? ah…late!! Guards, Guards!! Seraria-Sama almost got killed by an impostor looking like Herge-Same!! Recovery magic users!!」

The minister of the country, Loire, stood in front of us.

side : Seraria . Nou . Roshuru

This minister was saying that Herge was an imitation?
This behavior smells bad, I can bet my underwear that Herge is 100% fully real!!
(Seraria)「Pa、Payu…」(SFX)
My voice did not go out, This is part of the brute Minister's plan!
I had intuitively understood it.
After Herge became a Holy Woman, my smile brightened more.

But recently I got depressed.

It's due to what happened in a specific village.
Our goddamn Father praised the fact that Herge made everybody suffer.

Before I knew it, a flag had been raised for Herge.
Seeing all of this disturbed me, Moreover, don't put my important Herge with that crime!!

(Herge)「Older Sister!! Older Sister!!」
(Oriel)「Herge-Sama please, calm down! When Seraria-Sama get healed with your power, she will remove the misunderstanding.」
(Seraria)「Payu…!!」(SFX)

Nice one Oriel!! Please, Herge, remove this poison with your power and everything will turn against the minister's shitty face!!

(Herge)「Un,understood !!」

The lovely hand approached me but…
(Loire)「Do not move!! If I let you, Seraria-Sama will die!! Hand over the imitation to me and don't worry, the guards called a skilled Recovery user.」

In the end… they made Herge shoulder the crime.
I'm still not saved either…

(Seraria)「He…cough…r… es..cape..」
Even if it's not possible I did it.
Even invaded by poison, when I thought about my important Herge, nothing could stop me.
(Loire)「Do not move !!」
(Herge)「Oriel please, I hate it!! I don't want to be separated with Older sister!! Older Sister Seraria !!」
(Oriel)「Please, excuse me! Princess! Seraria-Sama!」

When Oriel flung something against the floor, lights overflowed, dyeing everything in white.

Side : Raija

(Raija)「Did the prediction from Yuki proved to be accurate after all?

(Curse)「It did. But I didn't want it to happen. 」
I was scouting beside the Royal palace when lights suddenly overflowed from one of the windows. Someone went out.

Look like it was the princess and her follower.
Oriel seems to hold another person? But is falling from here really safe?
(Curse)「I don't know. But shouldn't we ask them if they need help? 」
(Raija)「Yuki said that if what he predicted were true, to help them thoroughly. 」

(Curse)「Don't say unreasonable things! If it comes to this, the guards would overflow into the Dungeon. 」
(Raija)「I Understand honestly, it can happen in the case we help them. What on earth is Yuki thinking? To shelter the girls in the Dungeon is the worst! It's the same as saying goodbye to himself. 」

When I was speaking, Oriel, holding the Princess and another person were coming this way.
I have no intention to stop them, I intended to run back to the Dungeon as fast as I could.

(Raija)「Keep going 」
(Oriel)「Sorry 」

She ran for a few minutes, after which, a soldier had shown himself.

(Soldier)「Did the girl holding another two women came here!! 」
(Raija)「If it's about them, they went this way 」

I pointed to a different alley

(Curse)「Did something happens? 」
Curse asked the soldier naturally.

(Soldier)「Sorry!! I have no time for this!! 」
The soldier ended the talk and ran.

Pattern 4: This one is the worst where the takeover of the country happens.
That's the flag: Herge is held responsible for a crime she didn't commit and the evaluation of the country dropped. If the war is kept running in the long term, The Holy Woman's standpoint will get affected by it.

Countries around will ally and make an Anti-Roshuru union. When that happen, the King will lose his influence. Then, the one pulling the string, who plotted all this appear. The people will then stop following the King. Cruel one, no?

Here is the kind of delusion I had in mind. But because the information is not complete, I can't yet understand who is the mastermind at all. I don't know everything but the way Herge is laid back is because the Holy Woman they thought dead returned.
In that case, there was another person. Who? it's probably someone from The Royal family.

I remember Yuki said that:

「Then, it's another face from the Royal family?」
「Who knows?」

The only one really able to answer this question already ran off far away from this place.
